Mission Statement

McCutchanville Community Church's mission is to connect our community with God's power and hope through the love of Christ.

Over the years, pastors in the Indiana Conference of the UMC have been encouraged to follow a distinct Wesleyan influence. One of the emphases is to follow John Wesley's Three Simple Rules and to actually live by the THREE Simple Rules: do no harm, do good, stay in love with God. John Wesley gave us those rules, all clergy agree to them when they are ordained, and all United Methodist people are called to follow them. Reuben Job wrote a very short book entitled Three Simple Rules, A Wesleyan Way of Living. Mr. Job states: "We live in such a fast paced, frenzied, and complex world that it is easy to believe we are all trapped into being someone we do not wish to be and living a life we do not desire to live" (Job 7). Sound like you?

The first of the Three Simple Rules is "Do not harm." Our Book of Discipline states: "By doing no harm, by avoiding evil of every kind, especially that which is most generally practiced." So how are you doing with the first one? Do you think Wesley had something else in mind when he was considering that which is most generally practiced? Is there a lot of generally practiced bad stuff going on today? Let your thoughts wander a bit... How about abandonment of children, and young children running the streets at all hours of the night? How about sexual exploitation of our young people leading to human trafficking? How about hunger? How about the perils of meth and other drug use in our area? How about gossip? How about the words that we use – either complaining about someone else or whining about our present predicament? How about profanity? Quite possibly, with the exception of meth, Wesley faced these issues in his day like we do and he said to avoid this type of behavior.

So how do we avoid this behavior, and "do no harm"? This involves growing deeper in faith and not continuing to be as an infant spiritually as Paul writes about to the Church of Corinth in 1 Corinthians 3:1-3. In fact Paul tells them "You are still worldly." Their own desires must be controlled in order to come to some maturity of faith. This rule, do no harm, like Paul's honest assessment of the Corinthian church, is not an easy rule; it does demand a radical trust in God's presence, power, wisdom, and guidance and a radical obedience to God's leadership.

Upon our baptism and receiving of the Holy Spirit in our very lives, we are new creations, and with this newness we are beginning a journey of being transformed into the likeness of Christ. Is this a tall order? Yes, it is, but it is also a demand on the life of one who claims to be a Christian. We must change. Reuben Job says: "To do no harm means that I will be on guard so that all my actions and even my silence will not add injury to another of God's children or to any part of God's creation" (Job, 31).

Try it out this month, Do no harm, and next month we will discover what it means to then take this and begin to "Do Good." But if you want to get a head start in doing good, you have my permission.

In Christ,
Pastor Greg

Firefighter's Prayer

When I am called to duty, God,
Whenever flames may rage,
Give me strength to save a life
Whatever be its age.

Help me embrace a little child
Before it is too late
Or save an older person from
The horror of that fate.

Enable me to be alert
And hear the weakest shout,
To quickly and efficiently
Put the fire out.

I want to fill my calling,
To give the best in me,
To guard friends and neighbors
And protect their property.

And if, according to Your will
In my duty I should fall,
Bless with Your loving hand
My family one and all.

We pray for these 14 firefighters
